Otis Higginbotham — G. N. Holt Photos with Star Camera

The Hope Rotary Club heard Rotarian Otis Higginbotham of Ashdown, resident engineer for Millwood Dam, present facts about the Little River Watershed Project when the club had a luncheon meeting at the Town and Country on Friday. The speaker illustrated his interesting facts with a series of colored slides that showed closeups of the dam itself and of the surrounding area.

Vic Cobb introduced Mr. Higginbotham, and the resident engineer told the Rotarians that the current project was actually the culmination of 30 years of study, plans, and work since the initial

Future of NATO Still in Doubt

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
BRUSSELS (AP) — Belgium today agreed to house the military headquarters of the North Atlantic Alliance (SHAPE), but the future location of NATO's political council still was in doubt.

According to sources at the opening session of the NATO conference, Belgian foreign minister Pierre Harmel accepted the proposed transfer, but made it clear he was speaking on behalf of the Benelux countries — Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The sources said this was because of the fact that the Belgian government faces certain political problems in its relations with France, and in connection with its own internal political situation. The foreign ministers of NATO's members met without France this morning to study problems raised by France's withdrawal on July 1 from the alliance's military structure.

Tuesday French foreign minister Maurice Couve de Murville joins the other 14 ministers for the annual NATO spring ministerial meeting.

The facility cost about $800,000 and is operated by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife of the Department of the Interior.

LBJ Sets Up Panel to Avoid Strike

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has received findings of a three-man panel that might help ease the threat of a July 5 strike by 34,000 workers against five major airlines.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said the report of a fact-finding board headed by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., was flown to the LBJ Ranch from Washington Sunday.

The board looked into issues underlying a dispute between the AFL-CIO Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers and five carriers: Eastern, National, Northwest, Trans World and United.

If the dispute is not settled by July 5, the union will be free to strike. One aim of the Morse panel, however, was to try to come up with findings that might contribute to a settlement.

Moyers said the text of the report would be made public in Washington early this week.

Johnson, who flew to his Texas ranch with his wife last Friday, was expected to return to the White House Tuesday. The principal purpose of their weekend trip was to see 22-year-old daughter Lynda graduate with honors Saturday night from the University of Texas at Austin. Lynda's actor friend, George Hamilton, also was on hand.

Jobless Takes Biggest Jump of Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment last month took its biggest jump in a year, the Labor Department reported today, and a spokesman said it indicated a slowdown in the rate of the nation's economic growth.

But, as Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics said, "There is every reason to believe that the overall (economic) movement is still upward," despite the rise in May from 3.7 to 4 per cent in the jobless rate.

The total number of unemployed rose 140,000 to 2.9 million.

Ross said the biggest part of the increase was among high school and college students putting in bids for summer jobs, although they were still in school in May and not ready to work until June.

"It doesn't prove that they are not going to get work," Ross said.

Two Escape From Jail at Lewisville

LEWISVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Two men, one of them an escapee from the state penitentiary, escaped from the Lafayette County jail here Sunday. Sheriff Wade Tatom said today.

The sheriff identified the men as Joe Marion Ferguson of Jamestown, La., and Joe Clanton Dick of Serepta, La.

Tatom said the 30-year-old Ferguson was to have been returned to the state prison today to finish serving a 21-year sentence for burglary and grand larceny.

Ferguson, after serving seven years, escaped, was apprehended in Austin, Tex., and was brought to Lewisville Saturday, Tatom said.

Dick was in jail on a charge of drunkenness and disturbing the peace, the sheriff said.

The jailbreak came when two men broke the lock on the unattended jail and opened the cell door while church services were under way in Lewisville, Tatom said.

a twist in modern art

A good chunk of the public long has viewed modern art as junk and more recently modern artists have been turning junk into art. And junk is literally what these pieces were before a West Coast petroleum engineer, Fred M. Kalenborn, saw their artistic possibilities. Taking battered bits of equipment used in oil drilling, he cleaned and polished them with these results. He sees a snake at left, a bird center. And the tortured piece at right is titled simply "Frustration."

HELEN HELP US!

— by Helen Bottel —

How Not To Win And Influence In-Laws

Dear Helen: I wrote to you once before but haven't seen any answer in your column. Please don't ignore me this time. I'll repeat:

I am 27 years old, but look young for my age. I love most of the latest fashions — the poor-boy sweaters, western look jeans, white leather heel boots. I wear my hair straight, below my shoulders, with bangs. I'm tall and not heavy, I can manage these styles.

Now my husband and his relatives are old-fashioned. They want me to wear housedresses, and say, "You're a married woman, dress like it!" They're trying to put me back to the 18th century.

My own folks tell me I look nice and I love to look "shrp." His folks are all heavy and let themselves go. They don't care how they look on the street. I think they're jealous.

No wonder husbands spend so much time in bars, when wives look like that. Yet my husband wants me to be like them. Ugh! Please print, and tell me, should I — Fight Them Or Join Them?

Dear FT or JT: You have only just begun to fight! There'll be no "joining them" when your in-laws read the letter you insisted I print.

If your clothes are as "sharp" as your tongue I suggest you tone down both, or else hope your husband takes you out of his family orbit. He may learn to like the "mod" look, but the "ugly ducklings" will never accept a swan! — H.

ories, I'm told they aren't allowed to suffer."

You're wrong! Since joining the Humane Society, I've found out differently. Animals in some labs are treated with incredible brutality. They are not given anesthetics to relieve pain during experimentation, nor allowed any post operative care. Overcrowding and lack of food and water are the norm, not the exception. At one university 1,400 animals are kept in cramped cages, piled three tiers high, never allowed out, and they are holed down with their cages, even when sick.

Medical research is necessary but savage brutality is not. It can be ended with the passage of the Rogers-McIntyre Bill, which will eliminate brutality but will not hinder research. A copy of the Rogers-McIntyre Bill will be sent free by the Humane Society, on request. Its address is 145 — 19th St., N.W., Washington, D. C., 20036. — Peggy

Dear Peggy: Dozens of people told me I had been misinformed about humane treatment of animals in medical laboratories and they sent document evidence to prove it. If this goes on, it should be stopped. But I can't believe it is the "norm." All researchers aren't savages. I simply won't buy that! — H.

Dear Helen: Somebody in your column said, "I actually saw a man's sock being darned." Possible but not probable. Women stopped darned men's socks when stretch hose came in. Ever try to darn one? It can't be done! — Ex Darner

Dear Helen: Your answer to "Animal Lover" was most correct about the atrocities suffered by animals before they reach experimental laboratories, but then you said, "Once in labora-

Students Told of Interest in Them

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Methodists churches have a tremendous interest in their young people, graduating students of Hendrix College were told at spring commencement exercises here Sunday.

Dr. Marshall T. Steel, president, told the 123 candidates for degrees that some churches are in debt and others need to make physical improvements, yet they contribute to the advancement of such colleges as Hendrix.

The college conferred honorary degrees on five pastors: Rev. Alvin C. Murray of El Dorado, Rev. Alfred A. Knox of Little Rock, Rev. Mouzon Mann of Searcy, Rev. Otto Teague of Arkadelphia and Rev. Antonio Rolim of Porto Alegre, Brazil.

Ryun Smashes U.S. Record in Mile Run

LOS ANGELES (AP) — America's fastest miler, Jim Ryun of the University of Kansas, feels he can run faster yet — and if he does, he'll be the world champion miler.

Ryun smashed the American record and missed the world mark of France's Michel Jazy by one-tenth of a second as he turned in a remarkable 3:53.7 performance at the Compton Invitational Saturday night at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

"I was not disappointed," Ryun said of his near miss, "but I feel I could have run a little faster."

The 19-year-old freshman said he would like to run against Jazy himself, but added, "I understand it's a little hard to do."

He referred to the Frenchman's seeming reluctance to compete with serious threats away from his homeland.

Ryun's time bettered the American record of 3:54.9 posted at Modesto, Calif., in 1963 by Peter Snell of New Zealand.

Jim Grelle, the Portland, Ore., flash who broke the four minute mile for his 20th time in finishing second. His time was 3:58 flat.

Ryun's official clockings were 59.9, 1:56.5, 2:58.5 and 3:53.7.

Miss Whitworth shot rounds of 68, 72, and 68 for a one-under-par 208 and a victory worth $1,875. She is now leading on the circuit with total earnings of $10,344 this season.

Cardenas Raps 4 Homers and Redlegs Split

By MIKE RATHET

Leo Cardenas fell one homer shy of a record. He won't get another chance — without starting over.

Willie Stargell fell one hit shy of a record. But he will get another chance — without starting over.

Cardenas, Cincinnati's 160-pound shortstop, slammed four homers and drove in eight runs as the Reds split a doubleheader with Chicago Sunday, winning the opener 8-3 before the Cubs took the nightcap 9-5.

By hitting four homers in a twinbill, Cardenas accomplished a feat that hadn't been done since the 1963 season. But he still fell one shy of the five Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals hit in a 1954 doubleheader.

Cardenas won't get another chance, unless he starts another muscle-flexing streak, but Stargell still has a chance to match the National League and major league records for most consecutive hits.

The Pittsburgh slugger was interrupted by the end of the Pirates' 10-5 victory over Houston after collecting five straight hits, including two homers. And he still had a streak of nine consecutive hits intact.

When the Pirates meet St. Louis Tuesday night he'll get a shot at the NL record of 10 — last achieved by Cincinnati's Woodie Williams in 1943 — and the major league record of 12 — last reached by Dalt Droop of Detroit in 1952.

Elsewhere, Atlanta crushed St. Louis 14-4, San Francisco edged Philadelphia 7-6 in 10 innings and Los Angeles and New York split, the Dodgers cruising to a 16-3 victory before the Mets won the nightcap 3-2.

In the American League, Minnesota thumped Cleveland 9-4, the New York Yankees defeated Boston 5-3, the Chicago White Sox swept Washington 4-1 and 12-0, Detroit took two from California 6-4 and 4-1 and Kansas City belted Baltimore 9-4 after the Orioles had nipped the A's 6-5 in 12 innings in the completion of a game suspended Saturday night.

Cardenas provided all the runs the Reds' needed in the opener, driving five runs with two homers and a single. Ron Santo and Randy Hundley homered for the Cubs.

Cardenas also hit two homers in the nightcap and added a double while driving in three runs, but the Cubs came from behind and won it with a five-run ninth. Billy Williams drove in the tying and lead runs with a two-out single.

Stargell drove in four runs against the Astros with his two homers, two singles and a double leading a 16-hit attack that stretched the Pirates' winning streak to five. Roberto Clemente also homered while Jim Wynn hit a pair of the Astros in a 4-for-4 performance.

The Braves rolled to their third straight victory after a string of seven losses by unloading 16 hits against the Cardinals. Denis Menke led the outburst that included a seven-run fifth inning in which 13 men batted by driving in five runs with a homer and four singles.

The Giants tied the Phillies in the ninth on singles by Tito Fuentes and Willie Mays around a sacrifice, then won it in the 10th when Hal Lanier tagged reliever Bo Belinsky for a two-out homer. Dick Groat drove in four of Philadelphia's runs.

Sandy Koufax won the opener for the Dodgers with a five-hit, joining San Francisco's Juan Marichal as the majors' only 10-game winners. Koufax was supported by a 19-hit attack that included five straight hits by Tommy Davis and two homers by Wes Parker.

Davis added two hits and Parker added a homer in the nightcap. But the Mets won it in the ninth when they pushed across a run on singles by Ken Boyer and Jerry Grote around an intentional walk, and a wild pitch by reliever Ron Perrano.

Arkansas AM&N was third in the 400 and mile relays, turning a 40.6 in the 400 and a 3:12 in the mile. Southern State was fourth at 40.8 in the 400 relay and Harding was fifth at 3:16.4 in the mile relay.

Race Driver A. J. Foyt Badly Burned

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — "I knew I had to get out or just fry," bandage-swathed A. J. Foyt said from a hospital bed Sunday.

The ace racing driver was badly burned Saturday in a crack-up during a test run at the Wisconsin State Fair Park here.

The 31-year-old Houston, Tex., driver had been favored to win Sunday's 100-mile Rex Mays classic in a car he had just purchased from Scotland's Jimmy Clark.

A spokesman at the West Allis Memorial Hospital said Foyt suffered second and third degree burns on the face, neck and both hands. The burns covered from nine to 15 per cent of his body, the spokesman said. His condition was listed as good.

Foyt was strapping down the straightaway when the left rear suspension collapsed.

The car rammed into the south wall at the first turn, careened off and burst into flames as it spun.

Chisox and Tigers Sweep Two Pairs

By MURRAY CHASS

Gary Peters is putting less kick into his work this season and getting more kicks out of it.

Peters, who isn't lifting his leg as high this year, brought his foot down on Washington Sunday, pitching a two-hitter as the Chicago White Sox completed a sweep of a doubleheader with a 12-0 victory. They won the opener 4-1.

The start for Peters was his first in two weeks, since he strained the bicep in his left arm in the first inning of a game against Cleveland.

"It was the best game I've thrown in two years," said Peters, who didn't allow the Senators a hit until the seventh inning. The performance brought his record to 3-2 and his earned run average to 2.18. It also gave him two complete games, one more than he had last year, and one shut-out, also one more than he had last year when he dipped from last summer, liked it and will use it again.

The 29-year-old left-hander later they'll introduce VASSS to the West believes a combination of bad timing and incorrect kicking affected his pitching last year.

While Peters is enjoying his pitching more, the rest of the White Sox staff is having fun, too.

The shutout was the sixth in the last 10 games for Chicago, a period which has seen the pitching staff post an amazing ERA of 0.80. In that time, too, the White Sox have won eight games and moved from seventh place, 10½ games back, to fourth place, 5½ out.

Elsewhere in the American League Minnesota whipped Cleveland 9-4, Baltimore edged Kansas City 6-5 in the 12th inning of a suspended game before losing the regular game 9-4, New York downed Boston 5-3 and Detroit swept California 8-4 and 4-1.

In the National League San Francisco nipped Philadelphia 7-6 in 10, Los Angeles crushed New York 16-3 before losing 3-2, Pittsburgh defeated Houston 10-5, Atlanta wallpoed St. Louis 14-4 and Chicago stopped Cincinnati 9-5 after bowing 8-3.

Tommye Agee supplied much of the White Sox power, driving in all four runs in the opener with a homer and a triple and scoring three runs in the second game. Tom McCraw drove in three runs in the nightcap while Don Buford and Smoky Burgess each knocked in two.

Harmon Killebrew's fifth homer in six games snapped a 4-4 deadlock in the sixth inning and sparked Minnesota past Cleveland. The Twins added three runs in the seventh, two on Rich Rollins' single. Max Alvis and Leon Wagner homered for the Indians.

A double by Sam Bowens and Russ Snyder's single in the 12th inning gave Baltimore a victory in the game suspended Saturday night because of a city curfew.

But the Athletics stormed back in the regular game as Phil Roof drove in three runs and Ken Harrelson and Bert Campaneris two each.

Jim Bouton got relief help from Steve Hamilton and Pedro Ramos for his first victory since last June 30. Bouton, who threw in the seventh inning, singled across two runs in the Yankees' three-run sixth. Roger Maris hit a two-run homer for New York in the first.

Don Wert led Detroit past California, driving in six runs in the doubleheader. He knocked in four runs in the opener with a single and a triple and produced a key two-run single in the second inning of the nightcap.

Yancey, trailing Gene Littler by one stroke going into the final round, fired a four-under-par 66 for a 265 total, one stroke lower than Cary Middlecoff shot in winning the 1961 title.

Bert Yancey Big Name in Memphis Golf

By BOB GILBERT

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Roy is a big name in life of Bert Yancey; new champion of the $100,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament.

Both were there Sunday when he needed them for his record-setting journey to a 15-under-par 265, lowest score on the 1966 PGA tour, and $20,000 in first-prize money.

Roy Stone, a touring caddy, telephoned Yancey at the motel and told him he had only 10 minutes to reach the course to tee off on the final 18 holes.

Roy Sanders, Yancey's caddy during the tournament, talked strategy with the young Philadelphian and suggested the 2-iron shot which Yancey said was his best fairway swing of the day.

Yancey, trailing Gene Littler by one stroke going into the final round, fired a four-under-par 66 for a 265 total, one stroke lower than Cary Middlecoff shot in winning the 1961 title.

Tennis Pros Take VASSS To Forest Hills Tourney

Van Alen System Changes Scoring, Service, Strategy

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—VASSS is not a disease, a new drug or a typographical error.

It is the invention of one James Van Alen of THE Newport Van Alens, and it could—if given the chance—lift the sagging face of pro tennis.

Mr. Van Alen, who operates the Tennis Hall of Fame at Newport, R.I., has been trying to sell VASSS (Van Alen Simplified Scoring System) for a number of years now.

The amateur officials, whose inventive minds travel about as far as a lead beach game, one more than he had last year, and one shut-out, also one more than he had last year when he dipped from last summer, liked it and will use it again.

The pros, however, tried it last year when he dipped from last summer, liked it and will use it again.

It could be a big break for the pros as well as Van Alen.

VASSS is similar to the system used in table tennis. To win, you must score 31 points with the winning margin two points. Service changes every five points.

"To become a truly popular game," Van Alen said, "tennis must have a simple scoring system like golf and other sports."

There are other advantages—or disadvantages—to be found in VASSS, depending on the type of game you play.

The biggest change is the service line. When playing under VASSS rules, it is three feet behind the standard line.

Thus players like Pancho Gonzales, who depend on a big service, lose some of their strength.

After playing—and losing—under VASSS rules last summer, Gonzales was agitated.

"I'll never play this again," he said. "If people are bored with a game that has too much emphasis on serving and volleys, then just as many people will be bored with a

Amberoid Is Winner of Blemonth

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Amberoid, badly beaten in the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, came from off the pace Saturday to win the $181,450 Belmont Stakes and ruined Kaul King's bid for the Triple Crown.

Kaul King, the odds-on choice of the crowd of 56,000 after winning in the Kentucky and Preakness, could do no better than fourth in the grueling 1½ mile final leg of the Triple Crown for 3-year-olds.

Amberoid, owned by Reginald Webster and ridden by 33-year-old Bill Boland, pulled away in the final one-eighth of a mile for a 2½ length decision over Buffle, from Robert Kleberg's King Ranch. Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Advocate was another five lengths back for third place in the field of 11.

Kaul King, carrying the hopes of Michael Ford of Omaha, Neb., and with more than one-half million dollars wagered on him, missed getting into the money by a neck after tiring badly in the home stretch.

Amberoid, who finished seventh in the Derby and third in the Preakness, ran the Belmont distance in 2:29 3-5. He won $117,700.

It was only his second victory in eight starts this year after being out of the money only once in nine 2-year-old outings.

He has a point.

But Pancho Segura, the 45-year-old professional has another:

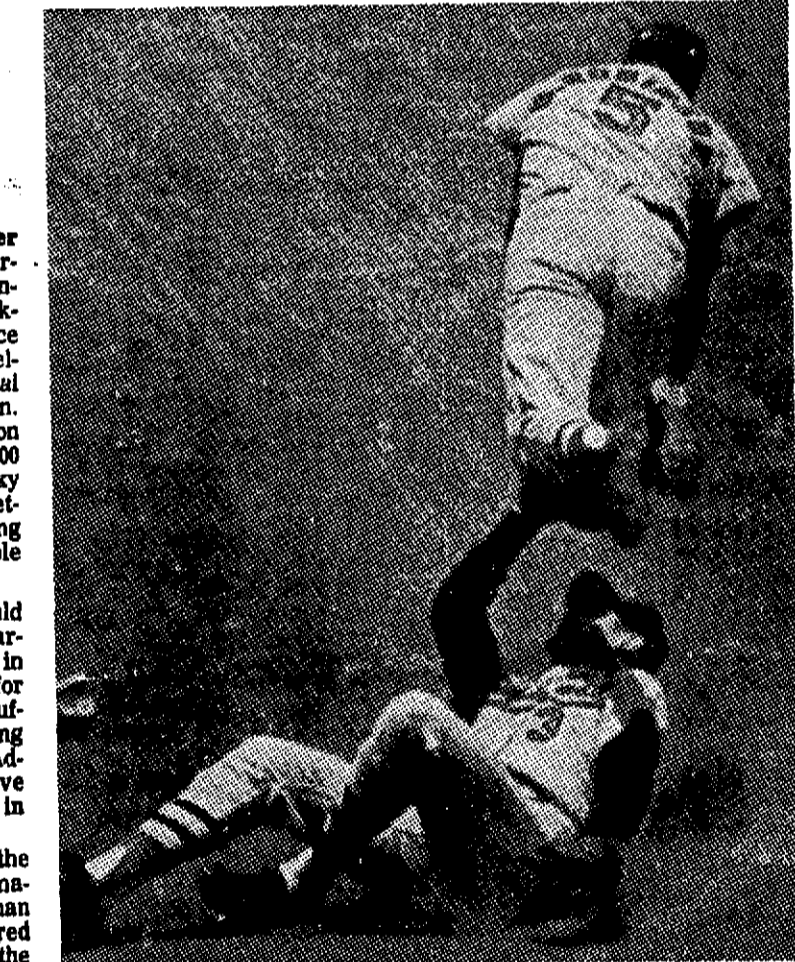

"To be honest about it," he said, "those 2½-hour matches under the old system were too much for me. The Van Alen system is the equalizer. I can compete against those younger pros."

The gallery at Newport last summer—where VASSS had its initial test—seemed to agree more with Segura than Gonzales. They liked the pace of the Van Alen System (about half hour per match). They also enjoyed seeing less of the serve, error, serve game.

Now VASSS will have another showing. Judging from the attendance at the March indoor pro tournament at Madison Square Garden, the same large crowds should be back at Forest Hills.

They'll see a novel scoring system and they'll also see Pancho Gonzales, who likes the idea of a $5,670 check for first place.

Re-do Old Furniture

By Aileen Snoddy
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — It's clean-up, fix-up time around the house. Those with patios or terraces begin to wonder what to do with old furniture with seats that have rotted out and frames heavily in need of painting.

If the frames are sturdy, don't condemn the pieces to the scrap pile. A little restyling and refinishing will give the furniture new life and brighten the patio for another season.

With the aid of a staple gun, scissors, sandpaper and paint, the work is relatively simple. The secret to such a do-it-yourself project is: Plan first, then do the work.

You may want more privacy than your terrace or porch now offers. You can get this by screening in the area, perhaps with a colorful glass fiber screening on the market. To do this select 2x4x12-foot posts at the lumber yard, measure accurately the area you want to enclose, secure the posts in the ground and staple the screening to them. This unit is easy to remove and store in the fall.

For giving old furniture a new look, you'll need a special primer to give wood or metal surfaces a rustproof, decay-proof surface, waterproof paint, cotton padding, water-repellent fabric and your tools.

You may want to cover the top of a bridge table, seats of bridge or dinette chairs for patio use. Cut the material to size and allow one inch to overlap the sides. From underneath, fasten one side in the middle, pull material to the opposite side and fold over the edge of the seat. Staple in the middle. Do the same on the other sides and staple the fabric all around about an inch apart.

If you decide to rescue an upholstered piece for comfortable sitting outdoors, here are some steps to follow:

- Remove the old covering and lay it aside. You may use this as a pattern to measure the size the new material should be.
- Restuff lumpy chairs or sofa with cotton padding, pull straps tight (if there are any) and staple to frame.
- Work on one part of the furniture piece at a time. Always pull the fabric taut and staple securely in place.

Once the upholstering is finished, you will want to paint the exposed wood. This should be sanded and cleaned before the upholstering begins.

When selecting colors for the material and paint, let yourself go. Why stick to white or beige or any other soft shade? This is a color a-go-go era and you can take a cue to what's hot for the season by simply walking through the sportswear department of your local stores.

THE WELL CHILD

Patience Goes a Long Way In Building Self-Confidence

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Some children are more susceptible to teasing than others just as some are more inclined than others to be bullies. If your child is unduly upset by teasing this would suggest that he feels insecure. Building up his self-confidence can't be accomplished overnight but with patience much can be done.

Often a child who has been teased becomes upset because he senses that you are disturbed over the situation. Your first step then must be to make sure that you view his problem casually. You must avoid rushing to his defense or scolding his tormentors but rather instruct him how to deal with bullies by himself.

If he is being teased by his own siblings you may want to deal with them later in private but even this often backfires and must be done with wisdom and tact.

The quickest way to resolve the problem is to find a nursery school where your child can be with others his own age and learn the lessons of give and take that he will need throughout his life.

Q—Since a fever is the body's way of fighting an infection, why doesn't the disease disappear when the fever leaves? Should a child be allowed to run a low-grade fever (101 or 102) without the aid of aspirin or alcohol rubs?

A—When the fever leaves the body there may still be millions of body cells that have been damaged by the infection. It takes time to replace these and reduce inflammation.

Efforts are made to reduce a high fever to make the sick child more comfortable, prevent dehydration, conserve his strength and prevent convulsions. If the temperature is not over 102 there is no need to worry about it but a close check on it should be kept because it may shoot up very quickly.

The best way to combat a high fever is to sponge the child with lukewarm water or rubbing alcohol. Most doctors advise against the use of aspirin to reduce the fever in a child because sometimes it is not readily eliminated and poisonous concentrations build up in the child's blood.

Q—Whenever my 5-year-old son gets a cold he gets a sore throat. The doctor says it's tonsillitis. Is this serious? How can I tell whether it is the start of rheumatic fever?

A—If along with a sore throat there is a fever and the tonsils are swollen and inflamed your son has tonsillitis. This usually subsides within a few days with good nursing care—bed rest, small doses of aspirin and plenty of fluids. The diagnosis of rheumatic fever is based on symptoms and laboratory tests and is best left to your doctor.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper.

Some bridge players are so lucky that if they fell in a river they would come up with fish in their mouths.

Most players would have bid two hearts with the North hand right over West's no-trump overcall. They would have been eminently correct since in this situation the bid of a new suit is not forcing and does not show anything except a good suit. With a lot of high cards you should simply double a no-trump overcall.

North's subsequent three-heart bid was terrible. If you can't bid two hearts you shouldn't suddenly bid three. A really good player who wanted to act would have doubled three clubs and picked up 500 points or so. Most players would simply have passed.

South rescued to three spades without waiting for the double of the heart bid he knew would be coming. West doubled three spades and opened the king of hearts.

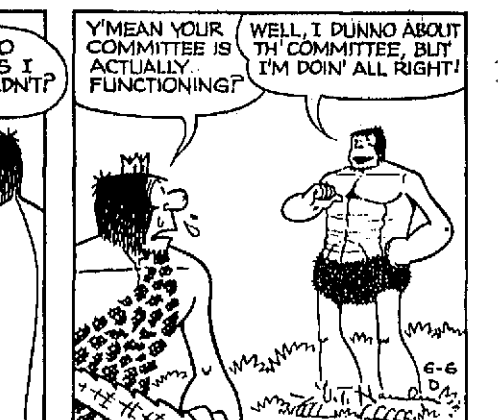

South won with dummy's ace and discarded a small club. Then he led the ten of spades and let it ride to West's jack. West forced South by leading the queen of hearts.

South played the ace and eight of spades which West allowed to hold. Then South led his three of diamonds. West played the jack and South permitted himself a quiet smile. He was going to make the hand! It wasn't hard. He put up dummy's queen; led back the six and played his five of diamonds. Poor West had to take his ace and South wound up losing two spades, one diamond and one club.

Musical Show Plays Here Tuesday Night

Many people in the Hope area saw a young blonde-haired dancer carry away top honors in the talent show at Hope District Fair last Fall. Top photo shows the Caridenettes Chorus.

Sidney Jo Padgett of Camden is returning to Hope Tuesday night, June 7, to perform several numbers in THE WORLD OF MUSIC, dance and music variety show at Hope City Auditorium. Opening curtain time is 8:00 p.m.

Sidney Jo was chosen last Fall for a Ted Mack audition at Little Rock. She is the daughter of Mrs. Effie Padgett of Camden.

Local dancing talent from the Connie Booth School of Dance will also take part in the show.

Suit to Halt Construction Dismissed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dual construction of school facilities does not necessarily perpetuate segregation, federal District Judge J. Smith Henley said in dismissing a lawsuit seeking to halt work on the structures.

Henley dismissed Saturday a suit against the Altheimer School District in Jefferson County, which is constructing elementary classroom buildings at its Martin school, operated for Negroes, and at the Altheimer school, predominantly white.

The plaintiffs contended that the dual construction would tend to perpetuate segregation and that Negro pupils would be less inclined to attend the Altheimer school under the district's freedom of choice plan. "The two sites are close together and can be used conveniently as components of the unitary school system which is now foreseeable," Henley said. The plaintiffs—a group of Negro parents—also contended that the district's freedom of choice plan was an inadequate method of ending segregation.

Only six Negro students, two in elementary and two in high school, applied last year to attend Altheimer school, they said. All six requests were granted.

Henley said neither the school district's construction program, nor its freedom-of-choice plan were unconstitutional.

Stirs Debate for Full View, Fulbright

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., says he has stirred debate over the Viet Nam war so the American people could have a fuller view of the war and its consequences.

The goal has been a national perspective from which to accurately evaluate the war and decide U.S. foreign policy in Southeast Asia, Fulbright told some 950 senior and graduate students here Saturday.

Some 5,500 friends and relatives of students in Razorback Stadium heard Fulbright explain his criticism of U.S. action in Viet Nam as an attempt to probe U.S. policy.

"To criticize one's country is to do it a service and pay it a compliment," Fulbright said. "It is a service because it may spur the country to do better than it is doing."

UN May Be Supervisor of V. N. Vote

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — United Nations Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg briefs senators today amid indications the United States may bid for General Assembly action to supervise South Viet Nam's proposed elections.

Goldberg, who has encountered stiff opposition within Security Council circles to Saigon's request for U.N. observers, scheduled a luncheon with about 15 senators. Most of the 15 are considered liberals and some have criticized President Johnson's course in Viet Nam.

Goldberg called Sunday for a "mutual cessation of all types of hostilities" in Viet Nam and urged that a new Geneva conference be held to reaffirm 1954 and 1962 Geneva agreements for peace in Southeast Asia.

In a commencement address at the Catholic University of America here, Goldberg also said the United States was prepared to abide by the results of reunification elections contemplated by the 1954 Geneva agreement "whatever these results might be."

Today's informal exchange of views between Goldberg and the group of senators was arranged by Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, who expected most of the discussion to center on the role the United Nations might play—if any—in policing the selection of a constitutional assembly in South Viet Nam.

This month's Security Council president, Frank H. Corner of New Zealand, has been canvassing council members after Secretary General U Thant made it known he does not believe he has authority to send observers.

If council action is blocked, as appears likely, the United States may try to gain a special session of the General Assembly to put the matter before it.

The assembly is not scheduled to meet in regular session until September, the same month in which the elections tentatively have been set by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has suggested reconvening the Geneva conference to take up the question of election observers. But he received no reply.

Great Britain, France and Russia are co-chairmen of the 1954 conference which divided Viet Nam and ordered subsequent reunification elections which were never held.

Nevada Ponders Over a Lottery

Silver State Sweepstakes hopes to acquire an exclusive 10-year franchise on the lottery.

Five Youths Killed in Auto Wreck

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Five teen-agers were among the six persons who died in traffic crashes on Arkansas highways during the past weekend.

Two persons died in an accident near De Queen. The others were killed in separate accidents during the period of the Associated Press count of weekend fatalities, from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

Edward K. Cannon, 19, and Sam Jester, 17, both of near Lockesburg, died Saturday when their car left U.S. 70 about three miles west of De Queen and overturned. Cannon was driving, said State Trooper Ray Davis.

Two other teen-agers were killed Saturday: Linda Angel, 17, of Huntington (Sebastian County), when her car left U.S. 71 near Huntington, and Vernice Russell Jr., 19, whose car struck a ditch after leaving Arkansas 17 north of Holly Grove. Russell was from Holly Grove.

Leslie V. Hicks, 19, of Osceola, was killed Sunday when his car collided with one driven by Joseph Cissell, 19, of Joiner, near Osceola.

Raymond Corder, 25, of West Helena, was killed Sunday in a head-on collision of two cars on Arkansas 49 about four miles west of Helena.

State Police said Corder was a passenger in a car driven by Everett Foley Jr., of West Helena. Foley's car collided with one driven by Laura Stewart, also of West Helena, officers said. The two drivers were hospitalized at Memphis.

Contract for V. Machines Ruled Legal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today upheld a contract made by Pulaski County's Board of Election Commissioners to buy 300 voting machines.

The 6-1 decision did not, however, order that the county judge must appropriate money to pay for the machines.

Glenn Walther, attorney for the Automatic Voting Machine Co. of Jamestown, N.Y., said he would advise the firm to ship the machines and bill them to the county by Oct. 1.

The machines will be used in the November general election, he said.

Walther said there was some financial risk for the company if it went ahead and sent the machines, but he said he believed the next county judge would honor the contract.

Judge Arch Campbell has opposed the machines since 1958 on grounds that they are too expensive. He goes out of office Jan. 1 and has not filed for reelection.

Rumbles of Big Changes in Red China

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Much of American policy toward Red China is a guessing game, including the hope it will change its ways, and now there are rumbles there. But that doesn't mean change, if it comes, will come soon.

That there has been discontent with the present leadership in Red China has been clear for weeks, giving some support to the hope that in time, when younger leader take over, some of the present fanaticism will disappear.

It is for this reason that so much of American policy toward Red China has been aimed at preventing the Chinese from gobbling up the rest of Asia now.

Last March Secretary of State Dean Rusk put it this way: "It is just as essential to 'contain' Communist aggression in Asia, as it was and is to 'contain' Communist aggression in Europe."

In recent months there have been continued attacks on Chinese intellectuals by the government of Mao Tz-tung. But until now the dissidents have simply been rebuked or downgraded, so far as is known.

Now the Chinese government is attacking Ten To, once its leading spokesman as editor of the official People's Daily. There are indications he will be brought to trial and purged.

It might be the start of a far wider purge and thus become a repetition of what happened in Russia under Stalin in the 1930s. He began his purges in 1934, just 17 years after the Bolshevik revolution took Russia.

It's been almost 17 years since the Chinese Communists took control of the China mainland making it seem that within less than a generation after a Red revolution younger people get fed up with the fanatic old masters.

There can be no doubt Mao has wrought many beneficial changes for the Chinese people since he and his group of lieutenants after two decades of trying seized the mainland.

But the Chinese people have had a tough time on the road to progress. Meanwhile, the Mao leadership has made them hostile to most of the world with anti-Western and even anti-Russian propaganda.

At the same time the Chinese have seen their leadership suffer defeats and rebuffs around the world. They have nothing to look forward to but even more isolation from the rest of the world, including most of the Communist world.

To achieve Chinese magnificence Mao has insisted upon a total conformity and acceptance of his leadership. The discontent of recent months shows the leadership is not being accepted totally.

The present discontent may be crushed, just as Stalin crushed it during his lifetime in Russia. He was repudiated by his successors.

It's doubtful that would have happened if the West, led by the United States, had not "contained" Russia through a military alliance which prevented Stalin from grabbing Europe.

This early containment policy also was based on the hope in time Russia might become less aggressive and easier to live with. Rusk expressed the same view about China:

Falcons can dive-bomb their prey at 175 miles an hour.

The Scooter Commuter Is New Breed

By JEAN HELLER
NEW YORK (AP) — The family car may never become obsolete, but for one new breed of American—the scooter commuter—automobiles are passe.

Each morning the scooter commuter pegs his pant legs, tashes his brief case tightly to the back of a motorcycle, and blithely speeds through traffic jams where no mere car can move.

There is a female of the species, too, who cares not in the least that her combination of high-heeled shoes and a motorcycle crash helmet is not in the best fashion tradition.

The breed, a rarity just a few years ago, has flourished in the environment of overcrowded superhighways. In 1965 the scooter commuter population doubled, and it is expected to redouble in 1966.

Motorscooters, motorcycles and motorbikes are everywhere.

NIMBUS REPORTS—Weather reports from space are on public view at New York City's Rockefeller Center. A photo printer located in the main window of the RCA Exhibition Hall on West 49th Street rolls out pictures of weather conditions transmitted by the Nimbus II satellite in an exhibit sponsored by RCA and NASA. Brian McCrave, hall manager, checks photos coming in.

In New York, even the police have "put-putt patrols."

"These things are convenient and a heck of a lot of fun," said one commuter as he waited for a light to change on Park Avenue.

Another concurred, adding that riding the cycles is also sofer than the subways.

"I bought this cycle on the first warm day we had in March," said Jeffrey Thompson. "About 18 people elbowed me in the kidneys on a subway trip, and I decided then and there never to take a subway again."

Thompson was carrying a passenger—Tina Johnson—who looked very much like a fashion model, except for a crash helmet.

"It isn't mine," Miss Johnson said. "Jeffrey made me wear it."

Lawrence Meegan of the New York State Motor Vehicles Department says the cycle explosion is amazing. "Sometimes we find it hard to believe that we've issued so many cycle licenses."

One big factor in New York was the 12-day transit strike last January. Commuters unable to get to one from work on subways and buses turned to their cars, and the resulting traffic tie-ups were daylong affairs.

It was then that many a commuter found it easier to switch than fight.

Among them were Bob and Peggy Kriegel.

"It was a heaven-sent blessing," Kriegel said after he and his wife had spurred through Manhattan's morning rush-hour traffic. "No matter how bad the traffic jams got, we never had any trouble."

Another cyclist, John Schweitzer, admitted "It was a little cold riding this thing during the January strike, but it was plenty handy."

Cycles also are handy for meeting people.

Armand Romano has been commuting by motorscooter for a year. Two months ago he offered a ride to a girl from his apartment building and has been taking her to work every day since.

Horehound, herb belonging to the mint family, has been used as a chest remedy since the ninth century.

24 Injured in Train Derailment

TEMPLETON, Iowa (AP) — Twenty-four persons were injured, none seriously, when a Union Pacific passenger train derailed today near here in western Iowa.

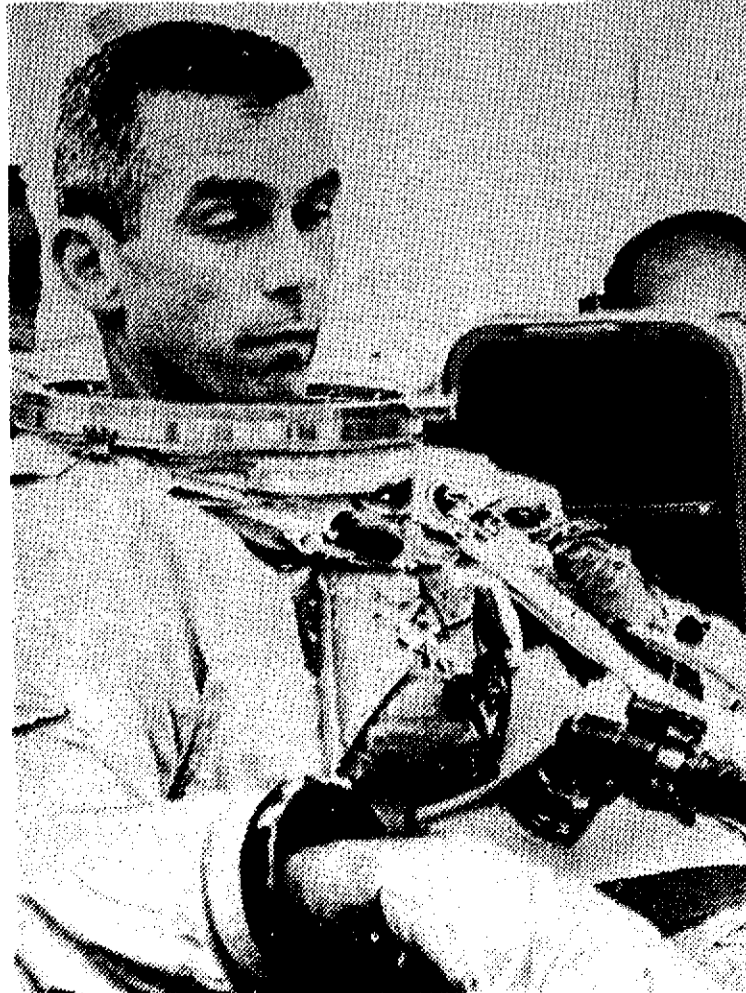

The train, the City of Los Angeles, carried some 200 passengers and was about 90 miles out of Omaha, Neb., when it went off the rails. Officials said the train was making a sudden stop to avoid hitting a freight which was pulling onto a siding on the single-line track. The two trains did not collide.

NEW WINNER — Sweden, which already has such as Greta Garbo, Ingrid Bergman and Anita Ekberg to its credit, could well have another winner in the international film world with Camilla Sparv. The 20-year-old, Swedish-born one-time New York model, who had a small part in "The Trouble with Angels," is now costarring with James Coburn in the adventure film, "The Big Noise."

Rep. Gathings and His Poll of 1st District

One of the most significant news stories for our state and nation is the report from the 78,000 postcard questionnaires that Rep. E. C. (Took) Gathings sent out to the voters of the First Congressional District.

Congressman Gathings asked three prime questions, and the response from the 15 counties went like this:

Do you favor withdrawal of United forces in Viet Nam? Yes 15.5%; No 74.6%; No Opinion 9.9%.

Do you favor the president's recommendation to carry on the anti-poverty projects at home at the same time we are fighting a war in Viet Nam? Yes 29.8%; No 65%; No Opinion 5.4%.

Do you favor what is known as the Great Society programs? Yes 13.3%; No 63.9%; No Opinion 22.8%.

The returns reflect that common sense still prevails with the great majority of private citizens.

Common sense tells the average man he can't ask his sons and his neighbors' sons to risk death in an expensive foreign war and at the same time live the life of Riley off the bounty of bankrupting politicians back on the home front.

But if this be common sense, and certainly the people of the First District in Arkansas are average Americans, then how do you explain the fact that in national elections the people continue to vote for prodigality and defy common sense?

Well, as Abraham Lincoln said, "You can fool all of the people part of the time — but not all of the people all of the time. And the Gathings poll is merely the latest in a series of polls pointing to a change in the nation's thinking. A tough war in Viet Nam, and rising prices on the home front, are disillusioning John Citizen with slick politicians and their costly vote-getting 'programs.'"

And it's not too soon. Some people blame much of our political trouble on the abandonment of constitutional safeguards by a too-liberal supreme court. But they are only passing the buck for their own mistakes. From the very founding of our government it has been an accepted principle that the supreme court is a flexible rather than rigid tribunal — because, as the adage puts it, "The court follows the election returns."

No one is going to help you or your country unless you change your voting fashion — leave off voting for yourself, and begin voting for your country.

Youth's Body Found in Gas Station

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — The body of an 18-year-old Marion youth was found today in the storeroom of a service station at West Memphis.

Police Chief Charles Young identified the youth as Melvin Earl Parker, an employee at the station.

Young said Parker had been beaten on the head with a small sledgehammer.

Three customers found the body when they stopped their car at the all-night station and began to seek the station attendant, Young said.

The chief said the money in the station's cash register was intact. The youth reportedly was carrying some money, Young said, but no money was found on him.

Surveyor 1 Takes a Long Look at Star

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — America's lunar peeping tom, Surveyor 1, its delicate footpads resting firmly on the moon's lumpy surface, has taken a long, long look at a star.

The spacecraft's accurate television eye sought and found Psi Rius, the brightest star in the sky, providing scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory with a good fix on Surveyor's exact location.

The scientists said pictures of the bright star were received Sunday among 651 new photos of the lunar surface, some showing a range of hills in the distance.

The hills, or small mountains, had been noticed in earlier pictures, but only as small lumps in the distance. Far more detail was obtained, the scientists said, by switching to a narrow-angle, long-range lens.

Scientists planned to keep a close eye on Surveyor's reaction today to the sun's heat.

As the moon goes into its period of high moon, the surface temperature where Surveyor is was expected to go as high as 260 degrees Fahrenheit. The camera would not be turned on in this period because, according to one scientist, it might "blow up or melt."

Barbara Jan Gaines was selected Miss Hope in a contest sponsored by the local Jaycees Saturday night. Thus she will represent this city in the Miss Arkansas Contest later in the summer.

Plane Brings Arkansan to Hospital

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand, (AP) — A U.S. Navy Hercules plane flew into the Antarctic darkness today to bring an ailing Navy petty officer — an Arkansan — to a hospital.

With Rear Adm. F. E. Bakutis, commander of the U.S. Navy support force in the Antarctic aboard, the ski-equipped transport from Quonset Point, R. I., landed on a specially prepared runway — lit by drums of burning fuel — at McMurdo Sound, the chief U.S. base in the Antarctic.

The plane collected Albert Mayfield of Forrest City, Ark., and took off for Christchurch, after more than an hour in McMurdo's 40 below zero winter.

Mayfield is suffering from a ruptured bladder. He was reported in good condition, but an ambulance was waiting in Christchurch to rush him to a hospital.

Gemini Astronauts in a Near-Perfect Landing of Spaceship

By HOWARD BENEDICT

AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 9 astronauts rode their tiny spaceship to a near-perfect safe landing in the Atlantic Ocean today, climaxing a sensational, often-troublesome flight highlighted by Eugene A. Cernan's record space walk.

Astronauts Thomas P. Stafford and Cernan made the most accurate landing in the U.S. man-in-space program. They parked Gemini 9 less than two miles from the aiming point and only about three miles from the main recovery ship, the aircraft carrier Wasp, and in the view of millions of television watchers.

"On the money" splashdown came at 10 a.m. EDT after a flight of 3 days, 21 minutes, during which Gemini 9 circled the globe 45 times and traveled nearly 1.2 million miles.

While thousands of sailors, wearing their Sunday best, cheered, the Wasp maneuvered alongside and retrieved the astronauts and space craft from the sea 50 minutes after splashdown.

Stafford and Cernan acknowledged the cheers with waves and thumbs-up signals. Both appeared relaxed and in excellent physical condition.

Command pilot Stafford, whose cool, on-the-spot decisions played a key role in the mission, steered the space ship to a touchdown within sight of the carrier and on-deck television cameras, which relayed the dramatic picture via the Early Bird satellite to millions of U.S. homes.

Gemini officials were anxious to start questioning them about the numerous problems that cut Cernan's space walk short after 2 hours 5 minutes, half an hour earlier than intended.

The frosted visor, combined with garbled radio communications, prohibited Cernan from using a rocket-powered back pack to maneuver in space.

Still, the walk was considered a remarkable success. Cernan was outside the orbiting Gemini 9 six times longer than U. S. astronaut Edward H. White II and 12 times longer than Soviet cosmonaut Alexei Leonov — the two other men to venture into the alien weightless world far from their home planet.

"This represents a major milestone," said Gemini program manager Charles Mathews. "We've learned so much on how hard EVA (extra-vehicular activity) is. We've learned man can go out and not become disoriented, not become excited and conduct it with a very rational approach."

The walk overshadowed earlier disappointments in the hard-luck flight whose troubles date back to last Feb. 28 when the original crew, astronauta Elliot M. See Jr. and Air Force Maj. Charles A. Bassett II, were killed in a jet plane crash.

Almost forgotten in the excitement of the Sunday stroll through the stars were the failure of an Atlas-Agena target rocket that caused one of three postponements and the "angry alligator" — a target satellite whose shrouded docking collar prevented a space linkup by Stafford and Cernan.

While Cernan became a hero as a record space-walker, Stafford earned plaudits for his skillful command of Gemini 9 and for his cool thinking under great pressure.

Stafford, 35, balding, slow-talking Air Force lieutenant colonel, made the decision Saturday to postpone the space walk 24 hours because he and Cernan were "bushed" after the lengthy pursuit of the target satellite — the third complicated rendezvous they had executed successfully in 20 hours.

Then, as Cernan was preparing to shove out of an equipment section with the back pack, Stafford assessed the fogged visor and communications problems and told a ground station in Hawaii:

"It's about four or five times more work than what we anticipated. And the pilot's visor is completely fogged over. Communications are very poor. It sounds like a loud gargle."

"If the situation doesn't improve — it's no go on the AMU (astronaut maneuvering unit)."

Minutes later, Stafford reported: "It is fogged over completely. It's no go for the AMU. The AMU transmitter is garbled. I can barely read it. I want him to switch back to the spacecraft electrical umbilical line."

Mission control center in Houston, Tex., quickly agreed with the decision.

Cernan rested for a few minutes on his perch in the open equipment section at the rear of the spacecraft, then said the visor was clearing up a bit.

When he could see well enough, Cernan returned to the cabin area of Gemini 9. Stafford asked him, before entering, to retrieve a rearview mirror attached to the nose because sunlight was reflecting from it into his eyes.

As Cernan removed the mirror his visor clouded up again. Minutes later he was back in the cabin and the hatch was closed.

Before the trouble, the slender 32-year-old Navy lieutenant commander had been a carefree, free-talking space somersaulter.

When he first opened the hatch and stood up on his seat, he remarked: "Boy, it is beautiful out there, Tom."

New Trial for Dr. Sheppard Is Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, Ohio physician, did not receive a fair trial in the bludgeoning slaying of his first wife, Marilyn.

Justice Tom C. Clark, announcing the decision, said the court had concluded "that Sheppard did not receive a fair trial consistent with the due process clause of the 14th Amendment."

The court, therefore, Clark said, reversed a 2-1 decision by the U. S. Circuit Court in Cincinnati, which found no evidence that Sheppard had been deprived of federal rights.

Clark concluded his opinion by saying the Sheppard case must go back to the U.S. District court in Ohio and that court must order Sheppard released from custody "unless the state puts him to its charges again within a reasonable time."

Justice Hugo L. Black noted a dissent.

Black did not state his views. The vote was 8-1.

The former Cleveland Osteopath, convicted of second degree murder and sentenced to life imprisonment in the 1954 slaying, claimed in his appeal to the high court that prejudicial news media publicity tainted the trial judge and jury.

In reply, Ohio Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said Sheppard was convicted in a fair trial.

The case was of special significance because two constitutional rights were at issue, freedom of the press and fair trial.

Sheppard, who all along maintained he was innocent, served more than nine years in prison before U.S. Dist. Judge Carl Weinman ordered his release in 1964 on grounds he had not received a fair trial.

The Board of City Directors met in special session at 9:30 a. m. today for the purpose of clearing up the confusion about the placing of banners and other advertising in and across the public streets.

There is an Ordinance that has been on the book for a good many years prohibiting the attachment of any advertising material to the light poles or in any public easement.

There has always been a lot of confusion because the ordinance was not rigidly enforced. To clear up the confusion and establish a policy that would serve the needs of the local community, The City Directors adopted the following resolution:

BE IT RESOLVED: That no advertising banners or posters be placed over or on the streets of the City of Hope, Arkansas, for any purpose of a commercial or political nature; providing, however, that such advertising may be permitted to advise of local or State events of non-profit or non-political nature, and to further provide that such advertising may be permitted for a local candidate running for a district or state-wide political office, and that before any advertising is placed on or over the streets a permit for the same must be obtained from the City Clerk's office and that the location, if attached to any utility pole, be under the direction of a representative of the Hope Water & Light Plant.

The confusion arose because of the good number of candidates involved in state-wide races, and while the City Directors did not want to be officially for or against any of the candidates, they were faced with either denying some of the candidates or creating a real clutter along the street, particularly Highway 67.
